

ABSTRACT

An information recording apparatus is provided with: a recording device for recording information onto an information
5 recording medium; a detrack detecting device for detecting occurrence of detrack during the recording of the information; and a controlling device for controlling said recording device to return to a location where the detrack has occurred and restart the recording if the occurrence of the detrack is detected